Two killed as protesters clash with troops

Israel expels 4 Palestinians

(Reuter): Israel expelled four Palestinian activists to Lebanon today as protesters clashed with troops in the Gaza Strip where a UN special envoy was visiting a Palestinian refugee camp.

UN relief workers said soldiers shot dead a 10-year-old boy in the Jabalya refugee camp in Gaza and the Army said troops killed a Palestinian youth during clashes near Ramallah in the West Bank.

They raised the unofficial death toll to 37 Palestinians in five weeks of unrest in the occupied areas captured from Jordan and Egypt in the Middle

Another boy, 13, was wounded during the demonstration at Jahalya camp, they said.

Plans

Israel, criticised by the United Nations for its handling of the violence and its plans to expel nine Palestinians accused of incitement, deported the first four by Army helicopter to the edge of its self-declared southern Lebanon security zone. The expulsions took place as UN Under Secretary General Marrack Goulding, on a mission to inspect Israeli-occupied areas, was allowed to enter the teeming Rafah refugee camp, where protesters stoned troops during the expulsions during Gould-ing's visit would be seen as a deliberate provocation.

The four expelled Palestinians, all from the West Bank, had dropped appeals against expul-sion. The Army identified them as Jibril Mahmoud Rajub, 34. Hussam Hadar, 26, Bashir Ahmed Khayri, 45, and Jamal

The four deportees arrived at a Syrian base in Lebanon's eastern Bekaa valley, hours after their expulsion from Israel.

Accept

Eyewitnesses said the four first arrived at a barracks of the Israeli-backed South Lebanon Army (SLA) in Marj Zhour about three hours after the military helicopter dropped them at the edge of Israel's self-declared security zone. Israel's Arab neighbours — Lebanon, Syria, Egypt and Jord dan — had all said they would not accept any expelled Palestinians, but the Israeli-patrolled zone is outside Lebanese government control.

In Khan Yunis refugee camp in the Gaza Strip, three residents stabbed two border policemen with knives and screwdrivers, wounding one in the face and hand and another in the hand. the Army said. The three were arrested.

In the occupied West Bank, residents of Kalandia camp retracted a report that a man, 55, was shot dead. They said he was being treated at a hospital.

Goulding's tour in the Gaza Strip camp took place while Israel's 10-man inner cabinet met in occupied Jerusalem to consider stronger measures to halt as soon as possible. These wishes of the people of Rafah are going to be communicated to the world and that is because next week the Secretary General will present a report, Goulding said.

"That report will say what the people of Rafah want and that is a promise I make to you."

When Goulding entered the camp, a crowd formed and began chanting nationalist Palestinian

"With our blood and souls we will sacrifice ourselves," the crowd shouted. "Down with Israel and down with the USA."

Troops moved in to disperse the protest outside the health clinic, where Goulding met UN doctors and several residents.

A UN committee accused Israel of violating the Geneva Convention on the treatment of civilians in wartime and appealed for protection for West Bunk and Gaza Palestinians in a letter issued today.

The letter was addressed to Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar from Massamba Sarre, chairman of the Committee on Palestinian Rights.

Jordan today denounced Israel's expulsion of Palestinians and urged similar condemnation from other governments and human rights groups.

The PLO also denounced expulsion and said it showed Israel's disregard for inter-

Pakistan wants Afghan leftists to share power

NEW YORK, Jan 13, (Agencies): Members of Afghanistan's pro-Soviet government must be included in any successor government if Soviet troops are to withdraw from the country, two leaders of neighbouring Pakistan say, according to a published report today.

The New York Times based its report on separate interviews with Pakistan's President Mohammed Zia-ul-Haq and Prime Minister Mohammed Khan Junejo.

The two leaders told the newspaper a compromise that includes all of Afghanistan's warring factions is the only way to guarantee an end to the fighting in the country's eight-year-old war.

Soviet leaders have said they would pull out of Afghanistan without the precondition of leaving a friendly government in Kabul. But the Pakistani leaders told the newspaper they understood Moscow still demands a 'safe and orderly pullout' and a Kabul government that isn't hostile to Soviet interests.

Require

Zia and Junejo said the Soviet conditions would require an interim government that includes some members of the pro-Moscow People's Democratic Party of Afghanistan, which took power in a 1978 coup. the Times reported. The two leaders said the new government would not necessarily have to include Naiib, the current Afghan leader, who used to head the secret police. Afghan rebel leaders oppose any involvement by the current Kabul government, and Zia and Junejo both told the Times they would not press the rebels to change their minds immediately.

But Zia and Junejo told the newspaper a shift would be essential if Moscow follows through on a speedy withdrawal.

Mubarak calls for united Arab front

Mubarak flew in from Bahrain where he underscored the importance of Arab unity to push through the Middle East peace process with Palestinian participation in an international conference.

"We are searching for peace, we want to push through the peace process, we want the Palestinians represented in an international (Middle East peace) conference." he told reporters in

The tour which he began Jan 9 has also taken him to Saudi Arabia, the UAE, Kuwait, and Oatar.

In Muscat Mubarak and Oman's Sultan Qaboos Bin Said strode side by side down a red carpet to review a guard of honour and meet local diplomats. Mubarak will hold talks with Sultan Oaboos before leaving Muscut tomorrow.

Addressing a press conference in Bahrain, Mubarak expressed hopes the Iran-Iraq war would come to an end, dismissing the conflict as "absurd." He complained that the leaders of Iran "have been slandering me because I am visiting the Gulf Arab countries. They (Tehran leaders) are clerics who should not utter injurious words that run contrary to the teachings of our glorious religion," he said. "But all I can ask of them is to heed the call to peace" with Iraq.

Urgent Mubarak underscored the "urgent necessity" of mustering a united Arab front "so that we (Arabs) may become an influential world power."

"My (Gulf) tour and talks reaffirm Arab solidarity. because intra-Arab accord is extremely important," he said. "Solidarity is the real fortress that evolves unity through consultation."

Mubarak explained that his two-hour visit to Bahrain was a matter of courtesy than official. citing the absence of the ruler. Sheikh Isa Bin Salman Al Khalifa, on a private visit to Saudi Arabia.

In Muscat, sources close to Mubarak said he was considering a visit to Jordan in the next three days to discuss the latest escalation in the Gulf war with King Hussein.

Talks with King Hussein would enable Muharak to convey the news of Arab leaders he has met on his tour.

Reagan suffers upset stomach

WASHINGTON, Jan 13. (Reuter): President Reagan was taken ill with an upset stomach during the night and cancelled some appointments, but held a meeting with Japanese Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita, the White House said.

"Despite the discomfort during the night, including nausea and vomiting, the President in the morning had no fever, and all vital signs were normal," spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said. Reagan, who underwent surgery for colon cancer in 1985, was not receiving medication and his doctor found no evidence of "anything other than gas-troenteritis." Fitzwater added in a written statement.

Takeshita said after a twohour White House meeting that Japan would stimulate its domestic growth and try to reduce its trade surplus with the United States, an issue that has strained otherwise warm US-Japanese relations.

Soviets not included in plan

US proposes international Gulf naval force

A KUWAITI newspaper repor-ted yesterday that US Defence Secretary Frank Carlucci has proposed a naval force from the United States, European and Arab countries to widen protection for shipping in the Gulf. Meanwhile, in a rare display of superpower cooperation the Soviets and Americans hunted a mine in the Gulf together.

The Kuwaiti daily quoted "ranking American sources" as saying that Carlucci recently discussed the plan with officials from the Arab states of the GCC as well as Egypt and France.

The newspaper said Carlucci believed the force, partly financed by Japan, would reduce the financial burden that the United States bears because of its massive naval buildup in the region, which started last year in order to protect US-flag vessels.
It also said he believed it would ensure escorts for ships now undefended. The United States, France, Italy, Britain and Soviet Union accompany ships flying their own flags, but not those flying others. But the paper did not say whether the Soviets are also included in the plan. The Netherlands and Belgium have supplied minesweepers to help clear hazards to shipping.

Shippers from other countries have complained that the escort operations have shifted Iranian attacks onto their vessels.

Iran, which hits neutral ships to retaliate for Iraqi strikes on its own oil shipping, has not attacked vessels travelling in military convoys.

The GCC leaders were not enthusiastic in their reaction to Carlucci's plan, but promised to study it," the newspaper repor-

"France stipulated that the plan be endorsed first by the concerned Arab states and rejected a ioint command for the proposed force" the newspaper said, quoting American sources. "Paris wants each contingent to retain its independent command."

Carlucci on Sunday ended a tour of the Gulf, but gave no public reference to a plan along the lines reported by the news-paper. He visited Kuwait, Bahrain and Saudi Arabia which together with Oman, Qatar and the UAE make up the GCC.

Inaninterview with CBS television yesterday, he reasserted the American-flag shipping. We have no intention of changing our policy. he said. Our commitment remains and we will have adequate forces in the Gulf to do the job."

US commitment to protect

In Bahrain Pennsylvania Republican Senator Arlen Specter said that Soviet forces yesterday asked the American Navy to help them hunt a mine, which the Soviets eventually blew up.

Specter, a member of the powerful Senate Appropriations and Intelligence Committees, said the joint minehunt indicated a significant change in Russian attitude and boded well for UN efforts to halt the Iran-Iraq war.

"I think that kind of US-USSR cooperation is going to be the ingredient which will bring about an end to the Iran-Iraq war, provided they can finally agree on an arms embargo," said

Conceive

The senator, touring Europe and the Middle East during a Senate recess, arrived in Bahrain on Monday from Israel. He flew to Pakistan after meeting repor-ters today and will visit Syria

Specter said he could conceive of some sort of joint Soviet-American action under a UN flag to protect shipping lanes in the Gulf.

The senator learned of the US-Soviet mineshunt on Tuesday during a visit to the American battle-cruiser USS Richmond K. Turner when he saw a transcript of the exchanges between American and Soviet ships. On January 5, a Soviet minesweeper shepherding a merchant ship passed a suspected mine, but sailed on until the escorted ship was out of the danger zone. Specter said. As the Soviet vessel returned to search for the mine it radioed the Turner for help and gave "remarkably precise" details of the suspected mine's location. Specter said the Turner launched two helicopters to join the hunt but it was the Soviet minesweeper that finally found and blew up the mine. The senator did not know precisely where in the Gulf the incident took place.

Tanker raid death toll rises to eight

MANAMA. Jan 13. (Agencies): Eight seamen were killed when an Iraqi Exocet missile struck the crew quarters of a Cypriot tanker steaming down the Gulf fully laden with Iranian gasoline, shipping sources said today.

Greek shipping sources who asked not to be named confirmed that eight seamen (four Greek officers and four Filipino crewmen) died in the attack on the Greek-owned United Venture on Monday night. Sustained

The sources, who spoke on condition of anonymity, identified the dead Greeks as skipper Elias Ganoutas, 54, first mate Thanassis Papadias, 49. chief engineer Thodoros Ananidakis. 53, and third engineer Tassos Tsilikas. The names of the dead Filipinos were not immediately available. A fifth Greek aboard the tan-

Iran claimed today it has launched a new offensive together with Iranian-backed Kurdish guerrillas inside northeast Iraq and killed hundreds of Iraqis near the Turkish border. But a military spokesman in Baghdad denied that any such offensive was launched. The spokesman, quoted by the official Iraqi News Agency "categorically denied the claims," and said journalists will soon visit the area "and will divulge the Iranian lies."

Polluted

In Dubai, oil sources said today that an Iranian oil platform shelled by the US Navy last October is still spewing crude into the polluted Gulf, further threatening marine life. They said that despite efforts by Iran to burn off the oil, a significant amount was still leaking from the platform at Tehran's Rostam field 120 miles east of Bahrain.

"The amount of oil gushing form the field must be declining now due to reduced pressure. one source said.

TAIPEI, Jan 13, (Reuter): Taiwan's President Chiang Ching-Kuo died of a heart attack today, leaving behind no clear leader and a government divided over his programme of democratic reforms. Premier Yu Kuo-Hua announced the death of the 77year-old president, son of Chinese wartime leader Chiang Kai-Shek, in a live television address.

'Perestroika' facing obstacles

Gorbachev vows to pursue reform drive relentlessly

MOSCOW. Jan 13. (Reuter): Kremlin leader Mikhail Gorbachev has pledged that his reform programme will be relentlessly pursued and would turn the Soviet Union into the world's most democratic state.

But he declared in an exposition analysts said provided a keynote text on the direction of the reforms in 1988: "To stop now would be disastrous. We must not permit it under any circumstances."

Ranged

The meeting, attended by senior media editors and cultural figures, took place on Jan 8 but a detailed account was only issued by the official Tass news agency last night.

Gorbachev, 56, ranged over almost every aspect of the radical reforms he launched soon after coming to power in March 1985. "You should have no doubts: We will concede nothing in our Perestroika policy." he said. "We are dedicated to take this policy through to the end. The choice is made and we will not turn off course."

In another part of the discussion, he declared: "If we take fright and stop the process we have begun, it would have the most serious consequences, because we simply could not raise our people to such a massive task a second time."

Describing western-style government is essentially antidemocratic, he said: "no-one will go so far in questions of democracy as we will, because that is the essence of the socialist system."

Pressure

The meeting followed several weeks of speculation among liberal-minded Soviet intellectuals that the reform drive might be slowing down under pressure from highly-placed conservatives.

servatives.

But Gorbachev insistently linked the whole Communist Party Politburo, the Kremlin's inner cabinet, to the "full-steamahead" prospect for democratisation of all aspects of Soviet life over the coming months and years.

A radical extension of democracy — within the party, government and the legal and judicial system — would be the prime aim for a communist conference to be held in Moscow in the summer, he said.

He told the intellectuals, who included some of the most ardent media champions of his "glasnost" or openness polices as well as some figures whose position is more reserved, to maintain close scrutiny of authority.

But he said although there were no limits to glasnost—open discussion of public issues ranging from history through farming policy to the state of the health services—it had to be "in the interests of socialism."

Audience

Gorbachev clearly sought to reassure the Liberals in his Friday audience, and those who would be reading the account in today's Soviet press, that there would be no let-up in any aspect of the reform programme.

He suggested critics of the Perestroika from the left and included former Moscow city party chief and radical reformist Boris Yeltsin, whose dismissal last November alarmed even Gorbachev supporters and brought some public protests.

Without specifically mentioning Yeltsin, Gorbachev said fears among intellectuals and young people that his removal was "a blow at Perestroika" had been "a

New UK party is third-placed political grouping

Social Democrats and Liberals merge

LONDON, Jan 13, (AP): Leaders of the Social Democratic and Liberal Parties announced today an agreement to merge, ending months of wrangling that has split the centrist movement and slashed its popularity.

The new party, Britain's thirdplaced political grouping, will be called the Social and Liberal Democratic Party, the leaders announced.

The merger agreement between the parties, which have fought two general elections as an electoral alliance, will be put to special party conferences late January for endorsement. The parties' members then will be balloted.

PLO plans 'confrontation' with Israel

ABU DHABI, Jan 13. (UPI): The PLO is planning to ship back "hundreds" of exiled Palestinians to the Israeli port of Haifa in a move designed to put "the enemy in a confrontation with the world public opinion," a PLO official said today.

The ship, Reunion, due to sail from a European port "shortly" for Haifa, will also carry "dozens of world leading figures," said the official, who asked not to be identified.

"We are trying to get everyone who has been expelled by the occupation authorities since (the) 1967" Arab-Israeli six-daywar, he told reporters.

Among those who expressed readiness to return to their homeland are Sheikh Abdel Hamid Al Sayeh, Speaker of the Palestine National Council (parliament in exile) and PLO executive committee members Archbishop Elie Khouri and Mohammed Milhem, the official

Lisa Bonet tops list of worst-dressed

LOS ANGELES, Jan 13, (AP): Actress Lisa Bonet has been named the worst-dressed woman of the year by Blackwell, the selfproclaimed arbiter of ugly

Blackwell described Miss Bonet as "Dracula's idea of a good time" at a news conference yesterday announcing his 28th annual list of 10 worst-dressed women, held in the gilded, ornate living room of his Hancock Park home.

Actually, he squeezed 12 women onto the chart by listing two ties.

Number two was Diane Keaton ("a bag lady after winning the lottery"), number three actress Justine Bateman ("a painfully stuffed sausage, unmercifully squashed in a tired old Esther Williams bathing suit") and number four a tie between singers Cher and Cyndi Lauper, lumped together as "Minsky's rejects, still trying."

Blackwell was referring to Minsky's, a New York Burlesque house in the 1930s where the women were known for the showy but gaudy appearances.

"I have always found that negatives are more printable and more exciting, and certainly more provocative, than saying something wonderful," said Blackwell, who was born Richard Sylvan Selzer an unrevealed number of years ago and turned to fashion after careers as actor and personal manager.

Also listed were: Monaco's Princess Stephanie: "a gender-bender fashion frump ... heaven help the monarchy."

Shelly Long: "From toes to nose, a comedy of errors." Joan Collins: "Dressed to Chill ... should be playing Baby

Sally Kellerman: "A bad drag before surgery."

treatment for Indira's assassin

NEW DELHI, Jan 13, (UPI): A Supreme Court tribunal today ruled that a panel of doctors can examine the surviving killer of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and advise treatment for a bullet lodged in his body.

The tribunal said the examination of Satwant Singh, 24, should be done within a week.

The ruling came a day after Singh's lawyer, Rupinder Singh Sodhi, claimed his client had been driven "insune" by pain from the bullet, which is lodged in his lower back and was fired by one of Mrs Gandhi's security men. Sodhi said the bullet should be removed immediately. But a prosecution attorney, citing a previous medical finding, conlended an operation was not

Junejo asked to testify in hijack trial

ISLAMABAD, Jan 13, (UPI): Five Palestinians standing trial for the 1986 hijacking of a Pan-Am airtiner asked a court Tuesday to summon Prime Minister Mohammad Khan Junejc, a senior official and six journalists as witnesses for the defence.

The five men told the they might produce two or three other defence witnesses but they did not disclose their identity because they feared the government would apply pressure on

Beside Junejo, they said they also intended to summon as witnesses for the defence the press secretary of President Mohammad Zia-ul-Haq.

They explained that Junejo and Zia's press officer would be able to produce detailed statements issued by the Pakistan government about the storming and retaking of the airliner.

They added that if the prime minister and the presidential press officer were unable to appear in court, they could be represented by proxies.

The journalists they intend to have testify in court include Karachi-based correspondents for Time and Newsweek.

Search for Oman's link with Mesopotamia

MUSCAT. Jan 13, (AP): An international team of archaeologists began a twomonth expedition today to uncover the site of an ancient port they think linked Oman with Mesopotamia and the Indus Valley civilisation.

Expedition leader Julian Reade, 49, a curator at the British Museum in London, said early findings indicated that Ras Al Junayz, a sleepy fishing village along the sultanate's Arabian Sea coastline, was bustling har-bour in the fourth millenium BC.

"From a global point of view. it is very important that we establish the relationship between ancient civilisations," Reade said. "We believe this site will provide valuable evidence proving Oman's links with Mesopotamia and the Indus valley.

Israel and Iran in terrorism alliance

LONDON, Jan 13, (Kuna): The secretary-general of the Council of Arab Interior Ministers Dr Akram Nashat, said in a press statement published here today that the Iranian ruling regime and the Israeli entity were terrorists, and warned that any Arab country could be subject to their acts of aggression unless careful precautions were taken.

Speaking to the London-based, Al-Majalla magazine, Dr Nashat said that the worst brand of terrorism was currently seen in the terrorist Zionist-Iranian alliance.

Aggression

He warned that Iran and Israel would circumscribe Arab countries through warfare, terrorism or other forms of aggression, as witnessed inside some Arab

He added that the Arabs were now in a state of war with Israel and Iran, who were masterminding subversive acts against Arab countries from the inside.

He commented on the socalled Islamic Revolution as declared by the Iranian regime, saying that it was a terrorist revolution and could not be Islamic since Islam did not permit any such inhuman practices.

affairs ministers ends LABOUR and social affairs ministers of the seven Arab Gulf countries have decided to strengthen cooperation between their countries in areas of labour training and social security systems.

The ministers, who Tuesday night wound-up three days of talks in Kuwait, assigned a follow-up office of their council to prepare for compiling directory describing and categorising professions in the Gulf countries.

The ministers of Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Oman, Qatar, Bahrain and Iraq agreed to meet again in 1990 in Abu Dhabi.

The final statement of their conference indicated that the labour ministers talked politics in addition to social affairs. The statement denounced repeated Iranian attacks on Kuwait and sounded backing to all steps the country has taken to protect its territories and territorial waters.

They also strongly condemned the brutality with which the Israeli troops were trying to quell the Palestinian anti-occupation uprising in the West Bank and

They called on Arab organisations to lend all-out support to the Arabs in the occupied territories and urged the UN Security Council and other world bodies to bear their responsibilities for protection of the unarmed civilians in those areas, the statement said.

Tunisian premier to visit Kuwait

TUNIS, Jan 13, (Kuna): Tun-isian Premier Al Hadi Al Baccouche will visit Kuwait next week as part of a tour of the Gulf. He will hold talks with officials of the Arab Gulf countries on Arab and international issues.

Al Baccouche will arrive in Kuwait on Monday. Sources of the Tunisian cabinet today told Kuna that the visit aims to raise contacts between the Tunisian leadership. which took office last November with leaders of Gulf states and brief them on Tunisia's new

During the week-long visit, Al Baccouche will hold talks with officials of Kuwait, Bahrain, Qatar, Oman and United Arab Emirates on economic issues, and ways of boosting investment cooperation between Tunisia and the Gulf States.

On the other hand, the sources declared that the aim of Baccouche's visit to France which will start tomorrow is to clear Tunisian-French atmospheres which were clouded during the early

United Arab Emirates in 1981.

Although several congressmen are visiting Riyadh this month, Dymally's trip carries its own weight because of his long interest in the Arab world and wide-ranging support to causes in the area. The congressman, who heads the caucus that comprises 23 black members of Congress, has been increasingly vocal recently on the need to end the Iran-Iraq During the US-Soviet summit last December, Dynially introduced a resolution supporting President Reagan in his call upon Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev to endorse a United Nations resolution to impose an arms embargo on Iran. The resolution was supported by the House leadership and key policy makers in bipartisan spirit.

Dymally is now on a fact-finding mission in the occupied West Bank and Gaza Strip accompanied by his legislative aide Marwan Burgan, an American of Arab background, as well as several members of the influential American Civil Liberties Union (Aclu), While the Aclu team heads back to the United States following the visit, Dymally and Burgan will proceed to Riyadh.

Civil Service Council meets

THE Civil Service Council met under the chairmanship of the Minister of State for Cabinet Affairs and acting chairman of the council Rashed Al Rashed to discuss a memo submitted by the Civil Service Commission about the equitable offering of administrative training courses for public servants who are GCC state members. The council approved the demand to offer these courses to Gulf state public servants as well as Kuwaitis.

Rashed told Kuwait News Agency that the council had discussed proposals and recommendations submitted by a special committee set up to study the situation of graduates of universities and higher institutes.

Al Rashed said that the council decided to give Kuwaiti teachers at the Language Centre of Kuwait University the same allowances as teachers with the Ministry of Education, which are as follows: Grade A. KD125: Grade B. KD115; First degree. KD105: Second degree, KD95: Third degree, KD85 and Fourth degree. KD75. A typical middle-eastern meal The main course dishes ted glassware give the res-taurant a rustic feel. Even the waiters are dressed in embroidered waistcoats and fez hats. Sedu wall hangings, Moorish arches, brass lanterns and heavy, ornate carved doors add to the atmosphere. Lebanese music plays a little too loudly in the background.

The menu offers hot and cold mezzeh and a sew main course dishes. Large parties can order a set menu of appetizers for KD8 while smaller groups can select individual mezzeh dishes. We ordered six mezzeh, which was too much for two people when eaten as a starter. The Sheraton would do well to provide a range of set mezzeh menus for two, four or six diners, with smaller portions, so that it would be possible to try a range of dishes, no matter how many of you were dining. At present the menu is better suited to larger parties of diners which is perhaps why only two other tables were occupied during the time we ate there. Variety Lebanese cuisine with its use of a wide variety of vegetables. healthiest in the world. Slimmers, vegetarians and healthfood enthusiasts could order a tasty and nutritious meal at Le Tarbouche. On the other hand, for carnivores there is a wide range of offal dishes such as spleen with sesame, brains or heart and delicacies like quail. The mezzeh were served in traditional earthenware mez-zeh dishes along with a basket of Iranian and Arabic bread. It was a pity that there was no toasted khubuz, which I find the tastiest. The Baba Ganoush was by far the most deligious of the six appetisers. Pureed aubergine with cucumber, onion and tomato, it had a tangy lemon flavour. Hummus, or chick pea dip, is a must on any mezzeh table and that served at Le Tarbouche has a rich, nutty flavour. The Tabboleh (parsley and cracked wheat salad) was aromatic with fresh mint and lemon juice. By contrast the lentil and rice salud was a tusteless disappointment and the shrimp salad (chopped prawns with cucumbers and tomatoes) was similarly bland and insipid. However, the spinach fattayer - piping hot pas-tries filled with tasty spinach and pine nuts were very appetising.

Killings at Clark alter lifestyle

By Kathleen Callo

MANILA, (Reuter): Attacks by communists and threats of more in 1988 have changed the lives of many US military personnel and civilians in the Philippines who are used to seeing the country as a second home.

Military and other sources have said a recent renewed threat by the Communist Party to strike at US personnel it alleges are involved in the Philippine antiinsurgency war would likely fuel growing American fears over

The Communist Party newspaper Ang Bayan has said the killing of three US servicemen outside Clark Air Base north of Manila last October had been a "correct and timely response" to alleged increased involvement in the Philippine affairs.

An air base spokesman said in an interview: "The killings at Clark really altered life (for US military personnel).

Unsafe She said the Oct 28 shootings and subsequent threats had led US officials virtually to seal off the base to non-military personnel and to restrict off-base travel by American servicemen and

She said that in the last two months some military people had requested transfers back to the United States before the end of their contracts, and that newcomers were being advised of the risks of a Philippines posting. People understand before they come now it's not all fun and games. We can't completely guarantee anyone's safety," she said by telephone.

Despite the problem American Ambassador to Manila, Nicholas Platt, recently urged American businessmen to invest in the Philippines, saying reports of instability were being blown out of proportion.

One American working in Manila said reports of violence in the country were unnecessarily frightening friends and family back home, many of whom had cancelled scheduled Christmas visits to the Philippines. They think we're living in a war zone, but of course we're traditionally described the former American colony as a favourite "rest and relaxation" spot, with friendly Englishspealing locals, American-style music and prime scuba diving spots along tropical coasts.

But the almost 16,000 servicemen and women based at Clark and the nearby Subic Bay Naval Base, Washington's two biggest overseas bases, no longer enjoy the freedom they were used

Movement for servicemen and women is limited now to travel between home and office, to US military facilities and surrounding areas considered safe, officials said. They are told to travel out of uniform, even when on official business, and have to get special clearance to have non-military visitors enter the bases.

Referring to mounting opposition to other US bases around the world, the spokeswoman said: "It's happening everywhere, in Spain, Greece, Turkey. People are just learning to live with it."

Precaution

Until the Clark killings, com-munist rebels had described their main targets as Philippine military and police.

They have since then threatened US embassy and other civilians as well as the military. Embassy officials said the threats were being taken seriously and that American citizens were advised to "be aware" and exercise caution.

Many American and other Western diplomats and businessman in Manila say they have started taking precautionary measures against attacks, including leaving home at different times each day and taking different routes to the office.

One American diplomat said recently: "Every time I hear a motor bike coming up behind me, I get nervous." Communist hit-squads often ride up to their victims on small motorcycles before striking.

The Clark spokeswoman said there was no indication when restrictions for military personnel might be lifted and that many were resigning themselves to the new arrangement.

Interesting suggestion

SIR: The results of the Opinion Poll on KTV 2 bear out what most of us have long felt: the service is pretty awful. As it is likely that little or nothing will be done to improve it in our lifetime, may I make a suggestion to viewers of this wretched service. When you're watching turn the sound down and play your favourite piece of music or your favourite song. It can be

For example, during the 8 om News I find the Eurythmics' Be Yourself Tonight album particularly gratifying. Tracks like "Would I lie to you", "Sisters are doing it for themselves" and "it's all right (Baby's coming back) are strangely suitable. For the more serious viewer, a Chopin waltz, will serve adequately. For late night viewing there's nothing to beat Mahler's Symphony No 7. It's so bleak. Intelligent viewers will soon discover what suits him best. It's worth giving a try and it really enhances your viewing and listening pleasure.

Decision to raise fees improper

SIR: I sincerely hope the Education Ministry does not implement its decision to raise the fees of non-Arab private schools by five per cent.

Many schools, like the American and English, are already charging exorbitant fees. In view of the present economic situation, a move should be made to reduce fees. Parents and students feel that private schools are not delivering the goods. Education has become a big business with a handful of school owners raking in big money at the expense of thousands of parents. A further increase of five per cent will only aggravate the situation.

Instead, a case-by-case study should be carried out at all private schools and fees should be increased or decreased after considering all aspects in each case. A sweeping increase is not

Education is necessary. If fees continue to rise it will become a luxury which many parents will not be able to afford for their children.

I would like to make a suggestion: to avoid needless delays by a lawyer, the Ministry of Justice can establish guidelines or a panel of honest law enforcers to review cases which have been pending for over a number of years. Such a panel could evaluate a lawyer's efficiency in managing a case. The work of lawyers must be scrutinised. After all, we all seek justice.

Hooliganism at Salmiya

Because we are still fighting, we are winning: mujahedeen

Afghanistan: Moscow's Vietnam

By Edward Girardet

PESHAWAR, Pakistan: "Our war against the Russians has never been a matter of winning or losing on the battlefield. It is a matter of who can hold out longest against the other," comments Brig. Rahmatullah Safi, a veteran resistance commander

The burly former Afghan Army colonel, who now runs a guerrilla training camp at the base of a rocky hill northwest of Peshawar, pauses for emphasis. "But our struggle in Afghanistan is also a classic guerrilla war. And because we are still fighting, we are winning."

The Soviet occupation of Afghanistan, which entered its ninth year last month, has never been an easy conflict to assess. Consistent, reliable information from inside the country has always been difficult to obtain. And, with two foreign journalists reportedly killed in October, Afghanistan has become a much more dangerous war to cover.

On the surface, the conflict remains a bloody stalemate. Few analysts see any possibility of a military solution. The Soviets have failed to crush the resistance. Yet there is little the mujahedeen (resistance fighters) can do should the Soviets decide to pursue a limited war of containment, entrenching themselves in the cities and their main countryside bases.

Negotiation

In the end, most observers agree, only a diplomatic or political settlement can resolve a conflict that has already devastated much of that beautiful, rugged land and inflicted untold trauma on its staunchly independent people.

Current estimates hold that a million or more Afghans have died as a direct result of the war. Some five million civilians. almost a third of the country's pre-war population, have fled to Pakistan, Iran, and elsewhere the single largest refugee population in the world. Between two and three million Afghans still within the country have migrated to the largely Soviet-controlled cities to escape the fighting, or sought protection in "liberated

One significant trend has emerged in the past year of fight-ing: The mujahedeen for the first time appear to be forcing the Soviets to seriously reconsider their commitment to what many observers now regard as "Mosmujahedeen are in a much stronger position today than ever before," said a Western diplomat in Islamabad, Pakistan, "Their fighting capabilities have vastly improved and morale has never military analysts, guerrilla commanders, foreign aid workers, and independent observers recently in Afghanistan, the most evident if not dramatic development has been the high toll of Soviet and Afghan government aircraft shot down by the muiabedeen, improved anti-aircraft defence systems, such as the USmade Stinger missile, have not only pressured the Soviets into modifying tactics, but have enabled some Afghan civilians to return to their villages.

Difficulties suffer from problems that have

For one, many of their good commanders have been killed and have proved hard to replace. Rivalry and corruption persists among the Afghan political parties based in Peshawar. While field cooperation inside Afghanistan has definitely improved, clashes between certain commanders of the fundamentalist Hezb-e-Islami (Hekmatyar Gulbuddin faction) and other groups continue to undermine the muja-parties. The US programme, particularly the cross-border relief operation run by the Agency for International Development, is criticised for lacking coherence, direction, and effec-

West European relief coordinators and certain US officials also maintain that much of the aid is not reaching those for whom it is intended and that the alliance does not represent the resistance as a whole. To be effective, many observers here feel, the aid should go directly to resistance commanders on the inside who have proved themselves.

There have long been signs of major resistance fronts developing in the north and the west. Recently, about 700 to 800 commanders from different parties met in Ghor Province at the behest of Jamiat-e-Islami's Ismail Khan, a leading guerrilla chief from Herat, to discuss establishment of regional council, or shura.

Muhammad Eshaq, a political officer of the Jamiat-e-Islami, says, "Many mujahedeen are realising that if they join forces, they can do well. If this pattern of war becomes more widely accepted other parts of the country, the Soviets will find themselves with a big problem on their hands."

Publicly, most of the Peshawar parties say such developments are good. Yet they view them with concern because of the challenge that men like Khan may eventually present to their own authority. But better coordination has resulted in some impressive resistance operations. The past 12 months have seen the fall of several strategic Afghan-Soviet garrisons, notably Nahrin, Farkar, Kalagfan, and Kerun in the north.

Another important trend of the past two or three years has been the increased politicisation of the muiahedeen. A growing proportion of the 1,000 to 1,500 resistance commanders are realising that combatting the Soviets must be a social and economic foreign aid organisations, they have established hundreds of health centres, schools, and agricultural projects in "liberated areas" inside Afghanistan.

"For years, the Soviets have must do something for the civilians if they want to keep their Most observers remain uncertain as to how the Soviets will react to such changes. Already, Soviet-Afghan agents have stepped up subversion in Pakistan. Bombs, widely believed to have been placed by agents of Khad going offevery two or three days.

But the war itself is not going too well for the Soviet-backed regime. The Afghan Army, varying in strength between 35,000 and 50,000 because of defections, remains unreliable. Soviet troop morale, too, is low. The Red Army has had to take more of the brunt of the fighting and is suffering higher casualties. Military analysts and guerrilla commanders say the only really effective anti-insurgent operations are those by professional units such as airborne and special forces.

Most indications suggest that the Kabul regime led by Najibullah, former head of Khad, has found only dismai support for its heralded 'national reconciliation' programme and unilateral ceasefire launched last January. The ruling (communist) People's Democratic Party of Afghanistan (PDPA) has said it is willing to accept a coalition government, but insists on retaining a dominant role. This is considered unacceptable by resistance leaders, who say they will only negotiate with the Soviets.
Who are these people to even dare think that can offer us a cease-fire? Without the Russians, they are nothing," was one commander's dismissive retort. Long divided by internecine strife, the Kabul party has been split further by talk of Soviet withdrawal. Frustrated by Kabul's lack of success, the Soviets are reportedly considering dropping Najib in favour of a new leader. Observers say Moscow feels a "new deal" coalition government may appeal more to broader spectrum of the Afghan population. But it seems doubtful anyone affiliated with the PDPA would win much sup

Earlier this year, the Soviets hoped to persuade deposed King -Zahir Shah to become part of a new political settlement. The exmonarch refused to act withoutthe backing of the resistance. The crisis is a making of the industry which either rejects or scares away real writers. Even the words "original" or "serious" are like poison to producers. When some of them do take up the works of famous authors, they make such a mess that literary people prefer to keep miles away from films. But if a writer tells a producer that the story is from a successful foreign film, seen on video, or even from an old Indian hit. he at once jumps at it.

The result is that the same set of half a dozen stories are recycled again and again. Nowhere in the world does an audience accept the same story in so many films. If you have seen one of them, you have seen a hundred. This is the case even in big star films where the budget easily crosses a crore of rupees.

OBITUARY

A quick glance at the stories of three up-coming films shows that our film writers have given in to the easiest way of pinching or mixing, the formulas of action, revenge and traditional sentiment.

The first example is naturally that of a big film Shahenshah from which much is expected. Amitabh plays Vijay whose policeman-father arrests the driver of the villain Amrish Puri, when he runs over a poor child. But in the court the dead child's parents give false evidence and Vijay's father gets the rap. Unable to bear the insult, he hangs himself with a rope, which the child Vijay preserves. He also grows up to be a police inspector, but one who is tipsy and fun-loving, yet bent on revenge. Swell

When he is transferred to Bombay his first encounter is with the villain Praveen Kumar who runs a gambling den and challenges him. Under the law, Vijay finds himself helpless. And so Shahenshah is born, who emerges every night wearing a silver wig, with one hand of metal and the other holding a hanging rope. He destroys the den totally and this scares the real owner Amrish and his henchmen Prem Chopra and Avtar Gill. During the day Vijay remains the simpleton cop, who plays pranks, like inspecting a massage parlour and making friends with Meenakshi, who leads a fast life as a pickpocket.

Vijay has a swell time with a street gang (taken from TV's "Nukkad") as well as his girl. by singing songs, roaming in the parks and fooling her with disguises, like one of an orthodox Parsi. But the heroine says she does not like the bumbling, cowardly Vijay and has real love only for the brave Shahenshah (remember 'Superman', 'Shiva Ka Insaaf', 'Mr India', etc.). Vijay has an adopted sister (Supriya) who gets married to an honest journalist (Vyjayendra). But the villain's gang kills the writer in cold blood. There is a lot of tear-shedding at the funeral and the song "Meri bahena" is

Now. Shahenshah spreads

terror at nights among the city's criminals, (like Charles Bronson in "Death Wish" and Raj Babbar in "Aaj Ki Awaaz"). A veteran police officer (Pran) is set to catch him as well as Amrish. It all leads up to a court scene, like "Andha Kanoon", where the hero hangs the villain with the same rope by which his father had died. The story ends with a claim that there would be no further need for any Vijay to become a Shahenshah, Further comment on the story is superfluous. With the censor policies and rules being revised, due to severe complaints from members of Parliament, films showing an excess of lawlessness or violence may get into trouble and delay. Here again the big ones may go scot free while the small ones can get caught. One. of them is Hum Dahej Layee Hain starring the famous TV pair Aloknath and Anita Kanwar. Here, Anita and her cousin sisters, Sonica Gill and Prema Narayan, can't get married, as their brother Shekhar Suman, an ordinary policy inspector, cannot give dowry.

purkar runs a marriage agency and gets the girls married to brokers. But the brides run away on the marriage night, after killing their husbands.

In the jungle they meet a saint, Shashi Kapoor, who was once a dacoit. He gives them guns and bullets. The three start a tirade of kidnapping those who give or take dowry, so people get scared. Aloknath. Grover, and Rakesh Bedi are three social workers, helping good causes, though they are the sons of the same villain Sadashiv. The three girls first kidnap the three boys and then dream of marrying them.

The villain's business goes downhill and he spreads the news that the three Amazons are killed. He is about to arrange a big profitable wed-ding, when the three female dacoits turn up as players in a brass band. When the villain arrests them, the jungle saint comes to their help. The evil men are destroyed but the girls also have to end their lives. Thus, burning social problems, like dowry and bride-killing are given a frivolous twist by the film. Its writer-director Ram Gopal is naive enough to suggest that the solution is for brides to become dacoits and

Trouble

The third film Pati Parmeshwar which has had censor trouble already, on the grounds of denigrating women has Sudha Chandran (the actress with one artificial foot) as a devoted, old-fashioned wife of Shekhar Suman. The film depicts some traditional customs like the bride's father washing the groom's feet, as he would now be like an 'idol' for his daughter. Seeing this, she also vows to worship her husband. This story goes to the other extreme of the bride suffering every type of humiliation. She is harassed, maltreated and nearly burnt. The husband carries on with temptress Dimple, who wants to settle an old score with him. The wife pleads to the goddess Durga who gives her a special power. Now she goes back to her husband and since he is paralysed, she even carts him

Her virtue ultimately wins the day. The husband is cured and becomes devoted to her for life. These kind of scenes have been seen in countless mythical and devotional films. The oppression and torture of the heroine was shown aplenty in "Jai Santoshi Maa" which became a superhit. Other films have shown unfaithful hus-bands being cured of foul diseases and even brought back to life by dedicated wives. The message given by Producer R. K. Nayyar and Director Madan Joshi is that a woman should not leave her bad husband but stick patiently to him. considering him as "Pati Parmeshwar" and bringing him on the right path.

It is again a bankruptcy of ideas and themes among writers and so deserves to be cured at the creative rather than the censor level.

MET Ahmed Al Teeth, the gangster who heads Kuwait's Mafi, in a clip joint down town.

'Clip, clip' went the barber's scissors, but he was having a lot of trouble since Ahmed refused to take his head-dress off because he's embarrassed about the shape of his head, so the barber had to do the best

'I just hate workin under cover, muttered the barber unhappily

'Hiva, Mr Keith, what's happening?' Ahmed greeted me. Fancy coming downtown tonight to do a bit of sandallegging?
'Sandal-legging,' I said, a bit puzzled. Oh, you mean like bootlegging? Who wears boots in Kuwait?' rasped Ahmed. Yes, I see what you mean, a bit too warm. But, er, isn't it illegal?" "Sure, but who cares. This is the real stuff, one hunnerd and fifty cases of coke." 'Ahmed, for God's sake!

You must be crazy? the 'Hah, insha'allah,' he retorted with great bravado just as the barber peeled back

Ahmed's head-dress to run the clippers up the back of his 'But cocaine! It's too dangerous,' I gasped. 'Cocaine? Who said anything about cocaine? replied Ahmed with a puzzled frown. Lissen, I said this was the real stuff, coca cola." 'Oh, I see, but that's illegal too, isn't it?" 'Yeah, but it ain't half as illegal as cocaine, lemme tell

Yelped

He yelped a bit as the barber raised Ahmed's kuffiya and snipped away under the cloth. Unfortunately he took a few snips out of the head-dress at the same time, so when he had finished Ahmed had a sort of moth eaten cheesecloth on his head with odd tufts of hair poking through here and there, he looked like a yak in lace.

Soon we could hear an engine which got louder and louder as it approached. Beside me, Ahmed bound his black kuffiya over his face so that he looked very sinister. A big truck pulled up in a cloud of

There was a lot of frenzied activity as we humped the cases from the truck across the desert to Ahmed's vanette. We were so busy we didn't notice the police car cruise quietly up beside us. Suddenly, it switched on its headlights and out jumped Abu Stumble. Kuwait's most famous

Investment in construction drops

West German economic growth slows

FRANKFURT, West Germany, Jan 13, (Reuter): West Germany released figures today confirming that its economy slowed in 1987, expanding by only 1.7 per cent.

After five years of expansion, demand for goods in West Europe's most powerful economy showed signs of flagging despite calls by the United States and other nations for the West Germans to boost consumption so as to help accelerate sluggish worldwide trade.

The Federal Statistics Office said the 1.7 per cent rise in inflation-adjusted terms of Gross National Product (GNP), the broadest measure of economic performance, compared with 2.5 per cent in 1986.

Egon Hoelder, the office's president, told journalists that an appreciating Deutschemark made life increasingly difficult for exporters, and exports stagnated in 1987.

"Thus overall there was scarcely any economic impulse from foreign demand, as was already the case in 1986," he said.

But domestic demand, the main element of growth, also showed signs of flagging.
The rate of growth in private and public sector consumption slowed, investment in construction fell and growth in company investment was little changed, while companies built up stocks by a relatively high nine billion marks ($5.5 billion).

The 1.7 per cent 1987 GNP figure was in line with recent government forecasts, but below optimistic assumptions at the start of last year that the economy would grow by 2.5 per cent. And if the economy continues to slow, a government forecast of

Sony concedes defeat and goes for VHS recorders

TOKYO, Jan 13, (Reuter): Sony has conceded defeat in its marketing battle with the world's video consumers and decided to produce VHS recorders, a senior company official said today. The giant Japanese company's Betamax system opened the era of the home-use videocassette recorder (VCR) in 1975 and is still considered by many users to be technically superior to the VHS system, particularly in the United States. Industry analysts said the VHS format, invented by Japan's JVC company, now comprised more than 90 per cent of the world's VCRs."It's an admission of defeat. They've been forced to recognise the market superiority of a competitor's system," said Alan Bell, vicepresident of Salomon Brothers Asia. Sony senior managing director Nobuo Kanoi told reporters that video rental stores stocked predominantly VHS tapes, so the company could no longer ignore the VHS format. Sony would start selling VHS home-use decks in Europe from April, Kanoi said, adding they will be supplied and produced there by Hitachi.

The benefits of Ifad aid have gone to hundreds of thousands of small farmers, fishermen and landless peasants. Also scheduled to address the meeting are President Hossain Mohammad Ershad of Bangladesh, President Kenneth Kaunda of Zambia and former Venezuelan President Carlos

Slight downturn predicted for US economy

DETROIT, Michigan, Jan 13, (UPI): Toyota Motor Corp. said vesterday it is forecasting a slight downturn in US economic growth this year, although it expects overall car sales to remain about even with last year's level of 10.2 million units.

The top Japanese carmaker, in a New Year's statement from company president Shorchiro Toyoda, said the recent stockmarket collapse will result in lower personal consumption in this country and cloud the outlook for overall sales in 1988.

Sales for Toyota vehicles in the United States last year declined by about 90,000 units because of stiff price competition brought on by the sharp rise in Japanese yen, and poor sales of its light trucks, Toyoda said. Total sales for the year were about 630,000 cars and 300,000 trucks.

Late last year the carmaker's US distributorship predicted its US sales would further decline this year to about 610,000 cars and 275,000 trucks.

"It is our hope, however, that policies and efforts on the part of the US will stabilise the US economy by effectively reducing the fiscal deficit and resolving structural problems such as the trade deficit," Toyoda said. "Under these circumstances, the outlook for the passenger car market in the US in 1988 is uncertain, but we expect the market to remain at around the same level."

Japanese Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita arrived in Washington yesterday for his first state visit. He hopes to demonstrate Tokyo is taking on more responsibility in international affairs and to ease anger over America's trade deficit with Japan, which amounted to a record $32 billion on the automotive front alone, according the United Auto Workers

Exports

Toyota also said that for the first time since 1980, its total exports from Japan last year were below domestic sales, down 6 per cent or 110,000 units from 1986 to 1.77 million units.

Toyoda said that while the Japanese economy continues to grow, the continued rise in the ven could 'gravely affect' all America), he said. Richard Lloyd, chief dealer at Security Pacific National Bank in Los Angeles, said: "Lots of large banks in Asia Tokyo, Hong Kong and Singapore are now manned 24 hours."

"Most major dealers will be in their offices at the time the (trade) figures come out, even in Tokyo," he said.

The Japanese markets will be closed that day for a holiday. But many dealers in Japan will be at the office when the data comes out at about 0830 local time in New York and 2230 in Tokyo, a senior Japanese bank dealer in New York said.

Other dealers will trade at home when the trade figures come out, said Hajime Fuji, a deputy New York branch manager of Mitsubishi Bank.

Owing to the high risks involved in currency transactions, "home dealing" has become popular among major dealers as a way of keeping an eye on the dollar 24 hours a day.

In the United States, an alarm from a microphone next to the pillow of dealer James Hohorst tells him that the dollar has moved sharply. Hohorst, currency trading manager for Manufacturers Hanover Trust Co's North American region, has installed the equipment he needs to trade from his home.

A fully equipped office workstation per dealer can cost around $45,000, dealers said.

"That (24-hour trading) is a trend of the era. You can't stop it," said Natsuo Okada, chief dealer at Sumitomo Bank's New York branch.'

But dealers said it will take time before entire dealing rooms are routinely manned 24 hours.

London Gold

LONDON, JAN 13 - GOLD BULLION CLOSED TWO DLRS HIGHER AT 482.50/483.00 DLRS AN OUNCE ON THE DAY, AIDED BY EARLY GAINS IN U.S. FUTURES, BUT WAS CONTAINED IN A FAIRLY TIGHT RANGE AHEAD OF FRIDAY'S U.S. NOVEMBER TRADE FIGURES, DEALERS SAID.

THE MARKET MONITORED SIMILAR TIGHT RANGING FLUCTUATIONS IN THE DOLLAR FOLLOWING RENEWED CENTRAL BANK INTERVENTION, AND EDGED AHEAD IN RESPONSE TO RALLYING OIL PRICES, BUT GOLD OPERATORS GENERALLY LACKED THE IMPETUS TO TRADE AHEAD OF FRIDAY'S DATA, THEY ADDED.

GOLD WAS SET AT 481.40 AND 481.90 DLRS AN OUNCE DURING THE RESPECTIVE MORNING AND AFTERNOON FIXING SESSIONS.

London Money Market

LONDON, JAN 13 - MONEY RATES ENDED MIXED AFTER ANOTHER QUIET SESSION, WITH CONCERN OVER THE SIZE OF THE U.S. TRADE DEFICIT TO BE ANNOUNCED ON FRIDAY STILL DEPRESSING TURNOVER, DEALERS SAID. NEAR-TERM RATES WERE SLIGHTLY EASIER BUT LONGER DATES HARDENED DURING THE AFTERNOON, THE STEEPENING OF THE YIELD CURVE REFLECTING GROWING BEARISHNESS OVER THE LIKELY COURSE OF

CLEARING BANK BASE LENDING RATES OVER THE MEDIUM TERM. THAT BEARISHNESS WAS REFLECTED IN THE SLIGHTLY HIGHER RATE AT WHICH SOME DISCOUNT HOUSES SOLD BILLS TO THE BANK OF ENGLAND THIS MORNING. TWO TO THREE MONTH (BAND FOUR) BILLS WERE SOLD AT 8-13/32 PCT AS WELL AS THE ESTABLISHED 8-3/8 PCT LEVEL.

Wall Street Market Report

New York, Jan 13 - Wall Street stocks moved above their lows on technical buying below 1900 and concerted central bank dollar support, analysis said. However, they said central bank support alone wouldn't hold up the dollar for long. Program selling weighed on stocks.

The Dow Jones industrial average was off 20 at 1909 after falling to 1892. Decliners led gainers eight-to-three. Trading was restrained prior to Friday's US trade deficit report.

Primark gained 1-1/4 to 20. The company plans to spin off its utility

Tokyo Stock Market Report

TOKYO STOCKS CLOSE LOWER IN LIGHT TRADE
TOKYO, JAN'13 - SHARE PRICES CLOSED DOWN IN LACKLUSTRE TRADE AS A WAVERING DOLLAR ADDED TO AN ALREADY DISMAL MARKET MOOD AHEAD OF THE JAMUARY 15 RELEASE OF U.S. NOVEMBER TRADE FIGURES, BROKERS SAID.

"THERE IS A FEELING THAT THE FIGURES AREN'T GOING TO BE ALL THAT GOOD," SAID BROKER YOZO ASAI OF YAMAICHI SECURITIES.

"THE MARKET IS UP AGAINST A WALL."

THE NIKKE! AVERAGE SANK 300.06 POINTS, OR 1.33 PCT, TO 22,324.99. THE INDEX ROSE 46.62 POINTS ON TUESDAY. DECLINES LED ADVANCES 3.3 TO ONE IN TURNOVER OF 430 MLN SKARES AGAINST 500 MLN ON TUESDAY.

SECURITIES HOUSE, BANK, INSURANCE, PHARMACEUTICAL, RAILWAY/BUS, COMMENICATIONS, ELECTRONIC, REAL ESTATE, AIRLINE, RUBBER, PRECISION INSTRUMENTS AND SOME MANUFACTURING SHARES LED THE DOWNHILL MARCH.

BROKERS SAID BEARISH SENTIMENT CREPT INTO ALMOST ALL SECTORS, WITH EXPENSIVE FINANCIAL SHARES BEING ESPECIALLY HARD HIT BY JITTERY SELLERS. CREDIT/LEASE, WAREHOUSE AND OIL SHARES ROSE SLIGHTLY.

WAREHOUSES WERE PICKED UP ON BARGAIN-HUNTING, BROKERS SAID. A MARKET HUNCH THAT JAMBIARY 15 WILL NOT BRING TERRIBLY GOOD NEWS WAS THE MAIN IMPETUS FOR SELLING, BROKERS SAID. "THERE IS SOME CONCERN THAT THEY'LL BE WORSE THAN THE 14 TO 16 BILLION DOLLAR ESTIMATES," SAID STRATEGIST CRAIG CHUDLER OF SMITH NEW COURT FAR EAST. "EVEN IF IT HITS AROUND THERE,

THERE IS A CONCERN THAT THE DOLLAR WILL BE SOLD OFF, UNLESS THEY'RE EXTREMELY, EXTREMELY GOOD." COMMENTS BY PRESIDENT REAGAN THAT A LARGE TRADE DEFICIT FIGURE IS NOT NECESSARILY A SIGN OF A WEAK ECONOMY CONFUSED THE MARKET, AND THERE WAS SPECULATION THIS WAS AN ATTEMPT TO PREPARE THE PUBLIC FOR BAD TRADE MANBERS, DESPITE A WHITE HOUSE DENIAL THAT THAT WAS REAGAN'S INTENTION, BROKERS SAID.

"THE MARKET IS IN THE MOOD TO GET NERVOUS," A BROKER SAID.

Nomina Securities

WEEK OF JAN. 11 - 15 THE NIKKEI HAS BEEN STRUGGLING BETWEEN 21000 AND 22000 OVER SOME MAJOR CONCERNS. ONE IS THE SHARP RISE OF THE YEN AND ITS SHORT-TERM EFFECT ON CORPORATE EARNINGS. OFFSETTING THIS LAST MEEK
WAS THE NEW GOVT. POLICY ALLOWING TOKKIN AND FUND TRUSTS TO VALUE SHARE HOLDINGS AT LOWER OF MARKEY OR BOOK VALUE, COUNTER-ING FEARS OF SELLOFF FOR ACCOUNTING PURPOSES. THIS WEEK, HOW-EVER, DOLLAR INTERVENTION AND AN IMPROVING ECONOMIC OUTLOOK WILL BUOY THE HARKET. IN CONJUNCTION WITH DECLINING SHORT-TERM INT-EREST RATES, CYCLICALS, E.G. HEAVY INDUSTRY, SHOULD DO WELL.

American Express adds $350m to reserves

NEW YORK, Jan 13, (Reuter): American Express said today it had set aside more funds to cover possible default on loans to the Third World and had written off all its Latin America private sector corporate loans, worth about $80 million.

American Express said it had added $350 million to a loan loss reserve to cover loans to developing countries — its second provision of funds to this reserve.

The move followed Monday's announcement of a similar decision by Security Pacific Corp, which also set aside another $350 million. Move

The move by Security Pacific, the largest bank to announce second provisions to its reserve. put pressure on other banks to follow suit. Security Pacific is the nation's seventh largest bank.

'American Express said its American Express Bank Ltd subsidiary had added $350 million to its loan loss reserves and would take a charge of the same amount against its fourth-quarter earnings.

The bank's loan loss reserves now total $778 million and represent about 60 per cent of ali non-trade-related loans to Third World countries.

American Express added $600 million to its loan loss reserves in the second quarter of 1987.

During 1987 American Express Bank cut loans to developing countries by about 37 per cent, to $1.5 billion.

China to cut money supply sharply

BEIJING, Jan 13. (AP): China's central bank announced plans today to sharply cut the money supply in 1988 in hopes of curbing excessive demand that pushed inflation past 7 per cent last year.

"We'll pay close attention to make sure that the sector that need to be developed will get the money they need," the official Xinhua news agency quoted a spokesman for the People's Bank of China as saying.

"Enterprises with foreign investment are on the priority list and those with good economic returns will have our full support." Xinhua quoted the unidentified spokesman as saying.

The official said lending will increase but will be kept short of demand, while the overall money supply "will be cut drastically."

Overextended

Xinhua quoted the bank as saying overextended capital construction, especially in projects outside the state plan, and excessive growth in consumption have caused demand to far outstrip supply, especially in the areas of energy and raw and semi-fini-shed materials.

Government officials and economists have blamed this situation for China's growing inflation problem. Officials say inflation hit a national average of 6 per cent in 1986 and an estimated 7.5 per cent in 1987, but the rate in some cities was close to 20 per cent.

The report said the bank began to tighten credit last October by raising the reserve rate to 12 per cent, up from 10 per cent, and increasing interest rates for Cen-tral Bank loans. Xinhua did not give the interest rates.

A tighter money supply means banks will have to be more selective in their loans instead of relying on the state to issue more currency, Xinhua said.

Banks act to rescue sliding dollar

LONDON, Jan 13. (Reuter): Leading central banks including the US Federal Reserve Board intervened in currency markets and bought the dollar to rescue it from a new slide today.

Dealers said the Fed. West Germany's Bundesbank, the Swirs National Bank, the central banks of the Netherlands. Italy and Austria all hit the markets with snap dollar purchases. The Bank of Japan bought dollars during the earlier Asian trading day. Fears 1'.at US trade figures due on Fi lay will be bad had caused the ew dollar retreat, which follov rally last week د which was also helped by concerted central bank intervention. Lifted

The fresh round of intervention, timed for the opening of the New York market, lifted the dollar from near day's lows of 125.47 yen and 1.6248 Deuts-chemarks to above 126.25 yen and 1.6325 marks.

Dealers said the Fed and Bun-desbank sold yen for dollars. Japan's yen had been the favourite with international investors who were selling dollars this morning — "the yen's been the star of the show. It's strengthened against everything," said a London trader.

But dealers said not too many people had gone short of dollars so there was no frantic scramble to buy America's currency when the central banks moved in.

Worries about the dollar and Friday's US trade figures affected Wall Street where the Dow Jones industrial average quickly lost 20 points, although it rallied The central bank intervention did not immediately inspire a marked rally in European shares, which had generally opened lower because of worries about the dollar's prospects.

Bad US trade figures have repeatedly led operators in currencies to sell the dollar, in the belief that America will have to let it slide to help its exports.

Most economists expect the US trade deficit to narrow to about $14 to 16 billion in November from a record 17.63 billion marks in October.

But market rumours put it anywhere from $12 to 20 billion. There was even a rumour of a $23 billion deficit in Tokyo today," said one West German analyst.

Dealers said a deficit of more than $15 billion would be likely to weaken the dollar, which on January 4 hit historic lows of 1.5615 marks and 120.20 yen. Officials have said the central bank interventions which have helped the dollar rebound have reflected an accord to stabilise currencies of the Group of Seven leading industrial nations — the United States, Japan. West German, France. Britain, Italy and don this morning at $481.40 an ounce, just up yesterday's close of $480.75, and traded little changed later.

Recovery Despite the central bank intervention and the subsequent dollar recovery, dealers remained cautious.

In London, traders were divided over whether the action was a pre-emptive or tactical move possibly foreshadowing worse-than-expected US trade data on Friday.

Comments by President Reagan on Monday that a large trade deficit figure was not neces-sarily a sign of a weak economy added to market uncertainty. Some dealers saw the comment as an attempt to prepare the public for bad trade numbers, despite a White House denial that was Reagan's intention.

Share markets also hung on Friday's figures Nervously

The Frankfurt Bourse, which closed before Wall Street opened, ended nervously and near the lowest levels of the day. West German shares were under-declines on Wall Street and Tokyo and uncertainty about the US deficit.

The Commerzbank 10-share index fell 29.5 points, or 2.3 per cent, to 1,246.8 while the Boersen-Zeitung index of 30 top shares fell 5.62 points, or 2.1 per cent; to 258.08.

"No-one is willing to open fresh positions ahead of the US trade figures," one Frankfurt share dealer said.

In Zurich, the all-share Swiss index ended 17.9 points, or 2.3 per cent, lower at 753.4 points while in Milan, the M1B share price index closed 0.89 per cent down. Belgian shares also closed

BELGRADE, Jan 13, (AP):

After an unprecedented political deadlock, parliament yesterday adopted a 1988 economic plan and budget intended to contain galloping inflation, the state-run Tanjug news agency reported. But many deputies wondered if the plan can be implemented. Adoption was delayed for two weeks after delegates from Solvenia and Croatia refused to go along with the original drafts.

JUNIOR TIMES

Dear Junior Readers,

Perhaps some of you have seen a popular poster with the caption, "A little act of kindness can fill a heart with joy" and a picture of a child giving flowers to a triend.

When you first look at the poster you think about the joy of the child's friend as he receives the flowers. But if you actually put the thought behind the poster into action with your own act of kindness you will discover fixer it is your heart that is filled with joy as well as the person receiving your kindness.

An "act of kindness" can be no more than a simple thank you or helping your mother clear the table after dinner. Fill your heart and a triend's with joy by acts of kindness everyday.

She crept out on to the deck trying hard to avoid Ahmed Ablunda's men. To her dismay, the gangplank was guarded. A dozy policeman slouched against the railing, but his dog was wide awake and growling.

Annie had a brainwave. She hopped over the railing with her bag of junk and slid down a mooring rope to the shore.

Fruits and seeds

THEKE are many kinds of fruits. The blackberry is a wild fruit. Every blackberry is made up of many little fruits. Each little fruit has a seed inside. The fruit of the wild rose bush is called a hip. A hip is soft, red and jucy on the outside. Inside there are several hard seeds.

Birds like to eat the soft parts of blackberries and hips. They do not like the seeds, though. The birds wipe the seeds off their beaks. Sometimes the birds swallow the seeds. But the seeds have a hard covering around them. and they pass through a bird's body without harm.

If the seeds reach good soil, they grow into a new plant. If all the seeds made by one plant were to fall on the same bit of ground, the new plants would be too close together. Then they would not grow properly and so the seeds have to be scattered.

Dandelion fruits DANDELIONS grow almost everywhere. You can find them in the country and in towns. They flower from March to October.

The big yellow dan-delion flower is made up of lots of tiny flowers. When the dandelion flowers have died, white fluffy balls are left. People often call these white fluffy balls 'dan-delion clocks'. They are really many tiny fruits. Each fruit consists of a seed with its own little parachute of down. The wind blows the dandelion fruits to new places where they grow.

in a spot The Soviet Union's decision to take part in the Seoul Olympics and North Korea's vow to stay away have left Cuba in a difficult position, diplomats based here said yesterday.

If President Fidel Castro follows through on his most recent declarations then Cuba will boycott the Games, but Moscow's announcement complicates the matter, they said.

"If the Olympic Games are not shared between the two Koreas, we will not participate," Castro said in his last public statement on the issue, in an interview with an Italian reporter last June.

The North Korean Olympic Committee said yesterday it would not participate in the Scoul Olympics, just a day after the Soviet Union announced it would take part and Chinese sources in Peking said China would also participate.

Cuba's state-run news agency, Prensa Latina, carried a report of the North Korean decision from Pyongyang but there was no official government raction in Beardsley: got the winner.

LONDON, Jan 13. (Reuter): England striker Peter Beardsley saved runaway championship leaders Liverpool from embarrassment by scoring the only goal of the English Football Association (FA) Cup third round replay against visitors

Stoke yesterday.

Beardsley drilled home a John Barnes cross in the ninth minute but Liverpool's Second Division opponents prevented the anticipated goal rush thanks to some fine saves by their goalkeeper, Scott Barrett.

Tough
Liverpool's John Aldridge had a goal disallowed and defen-der Gary Gillespie hit a post. Liverpool face a tough trip to Aston Villa in the fourth round. Second Division Middlesbrough claimed a fourth round place but Minor League opponents Sutton took the honours in a dramatic replay.

Sutton forced the First Division candidates into extra time before Paul Kerr's 111th minute goal eliminated the competition's last survivors from outside the Football League. Kerr scored from a Dean

Glover cross to give hosts Mid-dlesbrough a clash with champions Everton or Sheffield Wednesday in the next round. Struggling First Division Watford welcomed new manager Steve Harrison with a fine recovery in their replay at Hull. Neil Williams and Alex Dyer scored first half goals for Hull but Watford forced a second replay next Monday via a Kenny Jackett penalty and substitute Malcolm Allen.

Indefinite ban on English clubs may be lifted

DUESSELDORF, West Germany, Jan 13, (Reuter): A top West German soccer official hinted yesterday that an indefinite ban on English football clubs playing in continental Europe might soon be lifted.

"Something has got to move in this affair," Hermann Neuberger, president of the West German Soccer Federation, said while attending the draw for the 1988 European Soccer Championships.

Neuberger said he and other UEFA officials had talked after the draw to representatives of England's Football Association about the issue. Although "considerable forces," had spoken out for an end to the ban, he added, UEFA's executive committee would not make a decision until it met in Monte Carlo on January 20. Press reports here said it was also possible that UEFA would want to wait until it had watched the behaviour of English fans at the June European Champion-ship games in West Germany before taking a decision.

English clubs were banned indefinitely from playing in continental Europe following a riot by fans at Belgium's Heysel Stadium in May 1985. people were killed.

Top seeds dominate second-round play

(Reuter): Ivan Lendl. Martina Navratilova and Chris Evert dropped just four games in seven sets of tennis today as the big names dominated second-round play at the Australian Open today.

Lendl had beaten American Matt Anger 6-06-16-1 in the first match on centre court before many spectators had realised the world number one was even in the National Tennis Centre. Lendi plays Australian Mark

Woodforde in the third round. "I am extremely happy, not only with the way I am hitting the ball but also with the way my mind worked today," the American said. "I went out eager and fought for every point,

The number four seed saved three set points in brilliant fashion before running out a 6-1 7-6 6-3 winner.

Women's seventh seed Zina Garrison, however, did not find the new rebound ace surface to her liking, giving little-known Swiss Eva Krapl the greatest win of her career 3-6 6-3 6-4.

Anna Maria Fernandez, another American, managed to stay on court for just 35 minutes against Navratilova before the world number two concluded a Evert. seeded third, found Beverly Bowes a tougher proposition on court one but her fellow-American had to wait until the penultimate game of the match to trouble the scorekeeper. Bowes lost 6-0 6-1.

Evert hit the ball sweetly against Bowes but the old campaigner was not happy about losing the whitewash.

"I played sloppy tennis in that second last game. However I played a lot better than in the first round when I was tentative with the balls and the court. Today ! went out intent on hitting it," Evert said. Cash won the first set 6-1 in 30

Olympic champions Pakistan crushed Spain 4-0 to keep their 100 per cent group A record intact and will play Asian Games title-holders South Korea in Friday's other semifinal.

Grant McLeod put New Zealand into an early 2-0 lead by capitalising on two penalty corners in the fourth and seventh minutes.

But Kenya struck back five mintues later after their first peualty corner. Chris Otambo put the rebound of Lucas Alubana's shot past goal keeper lan Woodeley to bring Kenya within

New Zealand clinched a victory in the 69th minute when Peter Daji scored from a cross of Peter Miskimmin.

Pakistan wasted no time against Spain, grabbing the lead in the first minute through a penalty corner conversion by Khalid Bashir. Two more goals before halftime put the game out of England leave for

LONDON, Jan 13, (AP): England's cricket team. still reeling from its controversial tour of Pakistan that was ridden with umpiring disputes, left for New Zealand today hoping for a more peaceful series but with captain Mike Gatting's job in grave

As the England party flew out of London, speculation was rife that Gatting would be stripped of repetition of the dissent he showed in Pakistan, when he clashed with umpire Shakoor Rana in an episode that made cricketing headlines worldwide.

Gatting was in philosophical mood as he boarded the plane with the rest of the 16-man squad for the 10-week tour.

"If people are not happy with the way I am doing the job. I will stand down" he said. "I will do the job as I see it, and give it 100 per cent.

Suspended Gatting has tasted victory just twice in 18 Tests since taking over from David Gower as captain in But his tinger-wagging, on-field argument with Shakoor, which resulted in a whole day's being suspended in Faisalabad until Gatting apologised, put the England skipper under increased scrutiny in New Zealand.

who was heavily involved in a number of disputes in Pakistan, said he was approaching the tour with "a fresh mind."

'There is bound to be an extra spotlight on the side in view of the circumstances in Pakistan," Lush said. "Everyone knows that. But I have every confidence that whatever happens on the field, people will certainly be proud of the players." Lush said the Pakistan incidents would be drawn to the attention of each player.

"Everyone will be very aware of what is expected of them in their approach and behaviour on the field," he said. England's chances of beating New Zealand, a formidable side on home soil, have been weakened considerably by the absence of star opener Graham Gooch, who asked to be rested from the tour. Ian Botham, who also missed the Pakistan leg, is again away, preferring to play Sheffield Shield cricket for Queensland in Australia. Gower is another who asked not to be considered.

Meanwhile, umpire Shakoor came under a stinging attack from his counterparts in England.

The Association of Cricket Umpires accused Shakoor of "intransigence" in the dispute

Shakoor wrote to Gatting

ISLAMABAD, Jan 13. (Reuter): Pakistani umpire Shakoor Rana expressed his regrets to England captain Mike Gatting over the row which rocked the cricket world last month, the Pakistan Times reported today.

The government-controlled newspaper published a photocopy of a letter Shakoor wrote to Gatting after receiving an apology from the England captain over an incident during the second Test at Faisalabad

Pakistan cricket board sources said the letter was given to Gat-ting during the third and final Test at Karachi.

The Pakistan Times article said it was understood Gatting would release the letter to the press and added: "But the England captain apparently kept the letter to himself, because obviously it did not suit his ends nor that of the English touring

By Gail Seery

MOHAMMED AI Husseini in his Toyota Celica will be the first out of parc ferme at the start of tomorrow's local rally. His car will leave at 9 am, followed by Ahmed Al Hilal, Tareq Al Waz-zan, Ahmed Al Zafiri and Ali Al Birami. In all a total of 32 drivers are hoping to gain honours in the first round of the Kuwait Rally season. Hussemisaid, "The car is ready, everything if OK and I hope to win.

The new committee of the KT Club Motorsports Division has prepared a list of seeded drivers for 1988. This list will be strictly adhered to when start numbers are allocated for this season's rallies. The drivers are, Ali Al Birami, Ahmed Al Hilal, Tareq Al Wazzan, Eid Falah Al Farzan. Mohammed Al Husseini, Ahmed Al Zafiri, Ottmar Lange and Tareo Alyan. All but Lange have entered Friday's rally. Test

A number of drivers are entering in new or different vehicles this year. Ahmed Al Hilal will be out in his new Rothmans backed Toyota Corolla for the first time. He told the Arab Times that his main purpose in this rally was to test his car, and finish the rally. "However, we always want to be number one." he added. "They are very fast stages, but I can't predict who will win. This rally is not a car breaker, and the stages have been well selected to give a good rally." "I'm even more sorry after seeing the route." he said. Nevertheless, co-driver Khaled Khalifa said, "We have checked our pace notes and everything is OK. We are aiming for a win. But if we had the Toyota here we would have set a Ahmed Al Zafiri has switched to a Lada Niva an unlikely choice for a driver who usually prefers more powerful vehicles. Eid Falah, Ali Birami and Mohammed Al Husseini are in their usual vehicles. Eid Falah suffered difficulties in his last local rally when he met with a mechanical problem only a hun-dred metres into the stage. He was unwilling to make any firm predictions about his finishing poisition, not wanting to tempt fate. He has suffered a run of bad tuck recently, and he will want to put this firmly behind him and bring a good result to Marlboro. his new sponsors. "The car is OK, but nobody really knows how a rally will go," he explained. However, some drivers feel that Falah has the strongest and best car for this event, and that he could well be the winner. "The flat out sections will make it easier for him to
